ENGLISH FAVOR DISARMAMENT PARLEY

John L. Lewis Throws Hat Into A. F. of L. Ring

WILL OPPOSE GOMPERS FOR PRESIDENCY

Excitement Is Caused At Federation Meeting As Mine Head Steps in Ring

BULLETIN.
(By the Associated Press)
DENVER—Declaring that the U. S. Shipping Board had established the "open shop," Andrew Furuseth, president of the International Seamen's union, asked the convention Friday to support the seamen in their fight against this policy. The resolution, submitted by the seamen's leader and referred to committee, declared the shipping board was hiding behind a smoke screen of union hate and is torpedoing the merchant marine and seapower of the U. S.

DENVER—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, today formally announced he was a candidate for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor to succeed Samuel Gompers.

"I have decided to permit my name to be submitted to the convention as a candidate for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor," was the announcement made by Mr. Lewis.

President Gompers announced that he will be a candidate for re-election in the following statement:

"The delegates to the convention will determine who shall be their officers and if they see fit to re-elect their president they will have the opportunity. My name will go before the convention and it will not be withdrawn.

"It has been stated by the Hearst newspapers and by the Hearst press service," continued Mr. Gompers' statement "that in the event there is opposition to me for the presidency of the American Federation of Labor, I will decline to be a candidate and will withdraw. That statement is absolutely false. My course will not be determined by what any individual or group may do."

While the action of Lewis was not unexpected, there was a flurry of excitement. Several delegations went into conference to determine whom they should support.

Lewis as head of the miners' organization—the largest union in the U. S. commands 4,257 votes in his own organization alone. The United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners, the second largest union, has also announced its intention to support him. Lewis' supporters also claim the support of railroad organizations.

DENVER, Colo.—The American Federation of Labor Monday opened the second week's session of its annual convention. The Irish question, the railroad problem, determination of future relations with the European trade union movement, jurisdictional disputes and other important matters were scheduled.

Whether President Gompers would be opposed for re-election by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, has not been definitely learned.

The complicated situation growing over the split between the two factions of Irish sympathizers was expected to be disposed of when the resolutions committee reports. The committee is understood to have decided to reject the resolution urging boycott of British made goods and report favorably the less drastic resolution calling for recognition of the Irish republic.

Supporters of the boycott resolution, who declare it the "official resolution of the Irish Republic" asserted they will carry the fight to the floor in an effort to overthrow the committee's report if unfavorable.

The International Association of Machinists have announced their determination to have the convention repudiate the action of the executive council in severing relations with the international federation of trades unions.

KLONDIKE BABY RELATIVE DEAD

Mrs. B. F. Bennett, Grandmother of Mae Edgren, Passes Away

Mrs. Bethia French Bennett, widow of Capt. James Bennett, civil war veteran, and grandmother of the first white baby born in the Klondike, died Sunday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. E. Lund, 2611 Vroman st. Mrs. Bennett was born January 15, 1831 and last Wednesday was 90 years old. She was born in New York state. She had been ailing for three months past.

A daughter of Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Jesse Edgren, was the mother of Mae Eldorado Edgren, the first white child to be born in the Klondike. Miss Edgren, whose mother died at her birth, has been in the South Madison sanitarium for some time. She was 23 years old last December 22. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the daughter's home, Rev. W. J. McKay officiating. Six members of the G. A. R. will act as pallbearers. Burial will be at Forest Hill.

Mrs. Bennett was a charter member of Lucius Fairchild post, W. R. C.; Dane County Soldiers' Memorial association; Sons of Veterans' auxiliary and Ladies of the G. A. R. She was also a member of the local chapter of the Daughters of 1812. She was one of the few daughters in that war. She leaves a family of three children, Mrs. Ella M. Bresee, 716 Conklin place; Mrs. J. E. Lund, 2611 Vroman st.; E. J. Bennett, 2110 University ave. She also is survived by several grandchildren, Mrs. Emily Bresee Zapata, Pittsburg, Pa.; Mrs. Mildred Lund Norris, Madison; Miss Mae E. Edgren, Milwaukee; Mrs. Clara Bennett, Jepson, Canada; and five greatgrandchildren Elizabeth Norris and James Bennett, Madison.

Claim Closed Shop Is Favored in U. S. Decree

CHICAGO — Advocates of the "closed shop" won a victory before the U. S. Railroad Labor board here today. The board announced that representatives of the majority of men in one craft may draw up working agreements which will affect all members. Since unionists are in the vast majority, this is a ruling in their favor, it was interpreted.

Announcement of a wage reduction order affecting practically all railroads involved in the six hundred million dollar wage award of July 1920, not named in the reduction order of June 1, is expected this week.

STREET CAR CO. ANSWERS SUIT OF CITY

Declares Ordinance Ordering Paving And Grading Is Unreasonable

The Madison Street Railways Co. filed answer to the charges of neglect to pave and grade University ave. and E. Johnson st. brought by the city in the circuit court Monday morning. The case was called in court and was docketed on the clerk's book when the answer was filed. The company, in addition to reiterating its plea of not being able to earn enough money to do needed improving, declares, by its attorney E. J. B. Schrubring, that the ordinance passed by the city council on Feb. 14, 1920, ordering it to do the paving and grading, is "unreasonable, illegal and wholly void."

The company denies that it is operating under a franchise granted by the city and alleges that since Jan. 1, 1920 it has been operating under an "indeterminate permit" granted by the legislature. It denies the contentions of the city that it contemplated double tracking on the two streets and charges that it is "excessively burdensome" to require it to change its grades to meet changes made by the city.

E. Johnson st. is not in a dangerous condition, the company declares, and adds that if it were, "it is due entirely to the failure of the city to pave or properly grade" that street. The company informs the court that several times it has had to change the grade of its tracks on University ave. to meet changes made by the city. It states that the cost of he work demanded would be $50,000 and that, hampered by the railroad commission's refusal to grant an increase in its rate of fare, its earnings are insufficient to meet the demand for improvements. It challenges the city to proceed with the action by stating that "the city has an adequate remedy at law to obtain relief. The answer is sworn to by Dudley Montgomery.

Clara Hoppe Files Suit for Divorce

Clara Hoppe of Madison filed suit for divorce in circuit court today against Charles Hoppe. Mrs. Hoppe alleges cruel and inhuman treatment. Allegations are that the defendant beat the plaintiff, used insulting language, and had intimate relations with another woman. Mrs. Hoppe left her husband in Racine, June 8, and came to Madison to live with her parents. Her three children are with her.

Child Struck By Auto Is Improving

Vallis Lietz, 5 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lietz, 517 West Dayton st., was injured Saturday afternoon while crossing the street in the 1300 block on Rutledge st. The child will recover, according to Dr. H. E. Purcell, who attended her. The parents crossed the street and the little girl followed directly behind them. An automobile driven by Nels Orvold, MacFarland, struck the girl.

Man Fined For Speeding at Scene of Accident

G. L. Wanderwegen charged with speeding, pleaded guilty, and was fined $20 and cost in Superior court. Wanderwegen is alleged to have crossed the Rutledge street bridge at a 35 mile an hour clip Saturday. The bridge was the scene of the accident last Wednesday night, which almost cost the lives of six university co-eds. Judge Hoppmann reprimanded the prisoner severely for disregarding human life by operating his car at such a speed at such a dangerous point.

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN IS CARRYING OUT PIONEER SPIRIT IN EDUCATION, DECLARES BIRGE

President Traces Growth Of University In Baccalaureate Address

The Univtrsity of Wisconsin was described as a great public institution reaching out into every community in Wisconsin as part of the life of the state, by President E. A. Birge in his Baccalaureate address Sunday in the gymnasium before the 900 members of the 1921 graduating class. The president spoke on "The Pioneer Spirit in Education."

As part of the public educational system evolved under the spirit of the frontier, the university "is carrying out the purpose of the public which produced it—Democracy, Freedom, mobility of society, equality of opportunity—all of which were fundamental in the minds of those who adopted the state university a half century ago, and for whom the university has done its work," President Birge declared.

Music at the exercises was furnished by the school of music. Madison clergymen assisted in the exercises. Among those who took part are the Revs. E. S. Worcester, D. D. MacLaurin and H. C. Hengell.

President Birge said:

"Fifty years ago a university was something which could be ignored, something of whose existence the great public could be unconscious, but today its life is felt in every town as part of the life of the state," said President E. A. Birge in his baccalaureate address before the graduating class of the University of Wisconsin on "The Pioneer Spirit in Education," yesterday afternoon.

He traced the history of the University of Wisconsin from the days of its feeble beginning, when to most men and women "a university was a public luxury of doubtful usefulness, necessary indeed for a few citizens, but an institution rather to one side of the common life than part of it," down to the present day when through its university and agricultural extension work, it reaches every town and county of the state.

"Its actions are praised or condemned. The exercise of its functions is everywhere felt as adequate or inadequate, as ill done or well done. The university is criticised and councelled; it is blamed as extravagant and it is is set down as niggardly. Its students are right, perhaps, and sometimes, in the opinion of the few, more often they are too high or too low, too rigidly or too laxly enforced.

Part of Common Life.

"All of this means that the university is part of the common life, of the common consciousness, and therefore subject to the common judgment to a degree unexampled in the past. It means also that it has assumed the care of functions for the state whose performance is not a matter of indifference.

"Into these north central states during the middle decades of the last century there had poured a heterogeneous population drawn from all parts of the western world. Out of the population deposited here by the mighty streams of immigration from Europe, from New York, from New England, and from the south, there arose a novel social type. These people did not invent new agencies of government or society. In most cases they have added little but they have set old plans at work in new ways and with new spirit. Pervading all of the process there has been the growth of a new life and the impulse of a new spirit. The frontier temper of democratic progress has colored all experiments. The masterful temper of those who came to subjugate the forest and to make the prairie the home of civilization, has remained as the underlying impulse in social experiments.

"So it has come about that education in these states has met with the same fundamental experience that has befallen all other social agencies. The people received as their inheritance two elements of a school system—the common school, always and everywhere in America democratic in origin and nature, and the university, a descendent of the cathedral school and the monastic teaching institutions. In the eastern states these two elements have remained in large measure distinct, in a way which keeps plain the diversity of their birth.

University Was Luxury

"But to the west of Lake Erie the development has been different. The university remained isolated so long as population was sparse. No one feature in the history of these great commonwealths more clearly illustrates the beginning and the development of this common spirit than does the story of their universities. In their size universities have become national figures rather than local, and in their quality they have a personality which cannot be found in the detached units of the rest of the system.

"To most of the men and women of a half century ago, a university was a public luxury of doubtful usefulness, necessary indeed for a few citizens. It was thought of as ministering to the culture of the few.

"When, in the later 70's, a decade after reorganization of the university, our university announced the abandonment of its preparatory courses, there were only four high schools and two academies in Wisconsin which could be accredited as giving adequate preparatory courses. A little later, in 1880, the population of the state was substantially one-half as great as it is today. But again: Only four high schools, Madison, Beloit, Milwaukee and Evansville, were accredited. In only five cities of the state were to be found schools that could send students directly to the university, and less than one-sixth of the population had easy access to such schools. A school system, there-

UNCLE SAM AFTER LOCAL TAX DODGERS

Washington Announces a Drive To End Alleged Evasion Of Payments

Uncle Sam is after Madison tax dodgers.

An announcement made on Sunday by the internal revenue commissioner at the national capital, disclosed a plan for a drive to end the evasion of tax payments in this city and state. In addition to Madison, Oshkosh, Green Bay, Racine, Kenosha and Milwaukee, were mentioned as places where the action was to be centered.

Orders have been sent out by Commissioner Blair to field supervisors to organize flying squardons to visit these cities and take up the hunt for those who have avoided putting their contribution in the coffers of the national treasury.

Drug stores which are said to have failed to collect the full tax for toilet waters and medicinal preparations will be one of the special targets of the drive, it is announced. It is estimated that the government is losing millions of dollars from this source alone each year. Fines running from $100 to $10,000 are the penalties provided for violations.

Venders of soft drinks and those who operate soda fountains will also be under the scrutiny.

The statement asserts that the practice followed by many dealers of placing the tax money in a box, cup or dish, does not permit of a proper accounting of taxes collected and is contrary to regulations.

Where a receptacle is used to deposit the tax money, compartments suitable for holding the various amounts collected are required, it is said. All dealers who fail to keep a proper record of sales and taxes collected are slated for prosecution under the order

Drive On Auto Law Violators Is Opened

A drive on violators of automobile laws has been started by inspectors from the secretary of States' office. Results of the first thorough clean-up staged at Monroe showed 20 arrests and fines aggregating $300 for one day's work. C. C. Bennett, inspector who caught the violators at Monroe says that apparently, automobile owners are attempting generally to evade the laws governing licensing. The state intends to apply its regulations stringently. This condition of lax observance of the automobile laws is believed general throughout the state.

Odor From Monona Brings New Complaint

Renewed complaint from citizens residing in the 700 block on Jenifer st., regarding the odor from Lake Monona was made on Monday. One citizen, who called The Capital Times, declared that it was so bad that a person "could almost walk on the lake." Bathing is impossible, it is said. The condition is a result of the sewage which empties into the lake at that point, it is alleged.

WILLING TO CO-OPERATE SAYS GEORGE

Premier Declares England Is Ready To Talk Disarmament With America

(By the Associated Press)
LONDON— Cooperation with the United States is a "cardinal principle" with Great Britain, declared Prime Minister Lloyd George to the Imperal conference here Monday.

"We are ready," he said, "to discuss with American statesmen any proposal for limitation of armaments which they wish to set out and we can undertake that no such overtures will find lack of willingness on our part to meet them."

Mr. Loyd George alluded to the anglo-Japanese agreement as "one of the most urgent and most important questions" before the Empire.

"There is no quarter of the world where we desire more greatly to maintain peace and fair play for all nations and avoid competition in armaments than the Pacific and far East," he said.

SUNDAY BLUE LAWS MENACE

Adventist Speaker Declares Enforced Observance Is Un-American

A stirring rally in the interest of religious freedom was conducted by Sanford B. Horton, secretary of the Religious Liberty association, to close the services at Monona park Sunday night. Mr. Horton asserted that from the viewpoint of the constitution he enforced observance of Sunday by civil law was not only un-American and un-Christian, but was destined ultimately to overthrow the constitutional guarantees.

"I believe that America today is facing a serious crisis," said Mr. Horton. "This crisis is not so much from without as from within. We are willing to give our property and even our lives when our country calls. We shall never live to see America attacked from without, but we may at any time see our best institutions attached from within."

"I will utter a word of caution to the man who toils. It is better to arrange your rest day with your employer, as is being proposed in the Illinois legislature than to be left to the tender mercies of the Blue Law advocates who propose to leave nothing open to you on Sunday except your home, the church, and possibly the cemetery."

Judge Fines Two For Speed Law Violations

R. W. McAllister, Iowa, was arrested by Henry Ireland Sunday night on the Blooming Grove road for speeding. McAllister was arraigned in superior court. He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $10 and costs. I. S. King of Milwaukee, arraigned for speeding, pleaded guilty and was fined $15 and costs.

Two Men Near Death In Kenosha Explosion

Rebuild Old Livery Stable Into Garage

A. O. White will remodel the old livery stable at 313 W. Johnson st. into a garage. A permit in which the cost of the work is estimated at $10,000 was issued Monday by Building Commissioner Dean.

Police Act To Drape Limbs of Swimmers

Going swimming? If you are one of these persons who dons your bathing suit at home, don't forget to wear a rain coat, bathrobe, or other suitable covering during your walk from home to the lake. This was the order given out by Chief of Police Shaughnessy after a prominent Madison woman had made complaint about university co-eds and students who strolled through the Latin quarter on their way to the lake, clad in rather scanty bathing suits.

Mrs. Morgan Griffiths, policewoman, was delegated by chief Shaughnessy to spend Saturday afternoon out in the U. W. district to investigate. Mrs. Griffiths reported that she stopped about 15 bathers and told some of them to go back and get suitable covering on, while others were warned to keep their rain coats and bathrobes buttoned in front.

U. W. FINANCE BILL UP TODAY

Assembly Expected to Act In Big Appropriation Measures

University and normal school appropriations aggregating nearly $7,000,000 annually for the next two years, came before the assembly for action this afternoon, when the lower house convened at 4 o'clock.

All leaves of absence and pairs were cancelled at the morning meeting which was taken up with routine matters in disposing of minor proposals. Effort will be made to have a full representation to vote on the big appropriation measures and to have the members present at tomorrow's session.

Sur-tax amendment was offered by Assemblyman Dahl to the university bill when it was read. This proposal, identical with that of Sen. Severson, defeated in the senate, would raise $2,225,000 from incomes over $6,000, through an added rate ranging from 1 to 3 per cent.

A fight will be waged over the sur-tax amendments. If friends of the amendment gain the upper hand a call of the house is expected.

OFFENSE ON TURK ARMY IS OPPOSED

Allies Ask Constantine To Postpone Campaign and Accept Mediation

(By the Associated Press)

PARIS — Offensive operations against the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor are opposed by Great Britain, France and Italy, which have dispatched a note to the Greek government asking that King Constantine postpone his campaign against the Turks and accept mediation which may settle the Near East situation. The note was sent to Smyrna where King Constantine is at present and it is believed the Greek government will make an immediate reply. Should this reply be favorable, overtures to the Turkish Nationalists will quickly follow.

It is understook the British stand for the withdrawal of Greek forces from Smyra and the restoration of Turkish sovereignty over that district. Racial and religious minorities would receive protection from an international police force under the London plan.

Allied high commissioners in Silesia have been asked for a report relative to the frontier to be established between Poland and Germany in the plebescite area.

Should the commissioners be unable to agree, experts will be sent to adjust the situation and both the Poles and Germans will be forced to accept the allied decision.

BIRGE TRACES U. W. HISTORY

fore, in the sense that it exists today has been the development of the last 40 years, and its development has ended the isolation of the university and changed its place in the life of the state.

Expansion Rapid

"On Commencement day there will appear to receive diplomas as many students as was graduated in the first third of the university life. And there was needed almost another decade before there were added to our graduates as many as will walk in the procession on Wednesday although the population of Wisconsin was then from one-half to two-thirds as great as it is today. Three or four classes like that of this year will add to our numbers as many as graduated in the half century from the day that Professor Sterling began to teach a preparatory class in 1848.

"Or look at the change in terms of finance and of work. The total income of our university in 1870 was something over $40,000, much less than one per cent of the sum which we estimate for our operation next year. Its college students are now forty times as numerous as they were a half century ago. This increase of work and of resources is no doubt of the latest years only. But the remarkable feature is that the ratio of growth has been so constant during the whole period. Twenty-five years ago the operating income of the university was more than 10 times as great as it was 50 years ago. During the last 25 years this income has again increased about 10 times.

"No moment can call attention to these institutions more appropriately than does the present one. Ever since the armistice, the question of education has been a dominant one all over the country. The past months have therefore been critical ones for the universities—critical in a sense in which the term can be applied to few periods. For the question before the states has not been like those which come to them biennially—matters of minor improvements, of advances of secondary importance. It has dealt with the placing of the state university in a position to meet the problems of a new age.

Education Plays New Part

"The states have met this issue in a way which justifies our faith in democracy, or rather in a way to justify democracy's faith in education. Limiting our view to the group of five states in which Wisconsin is central, we see that the coming academic year will find nearly $20,000,000 of state money going into operating expenses of their universities besides nearly $15,000,000 for buildings and equipment during the coming biennium. The contribution of Wisconsin to this great sum though actually the smallest is of the same order of magnitude as is that of her four sister states so far as operation goes.

Wisconsin Equity Men To Meet Here Wednesday

Delegates representing sixty counties of the state will be present at the pre-convention conference of the Wisconsin Union of the American Society of Equity which will be held in the capitol Wednesday. The conference was authorized at the last state convention. At that time it was determined that a pre-convention meet be held to determine upon projects to be laid before the annual gathering. President Edward Pommerening and Secretary Joseph Houstin will be present at the gathering Wednesday.

Wisconsin Progressives

The Capital Times Begins Series of Articles On Men Who Are Carrying Banner of Forward Looking Principles

The following is the first of a series of articles to be written by the editor of The Capital Times on some of Wisconsin's well known progressives. The articles will seek to give the readers of this paper portrayals of the men who are helping to hold aloft the banner of progressive principles.—Editor's Note.

BY WILLIAM T. EVJUE.

SHORTLY before the Blaine administration was inaugurated, it was announced that some fellow named Lancelot A. Gordon up in the lumberjack country had been chosen for the position of assistant secretary of state. And everybody proceeded to say:

"Who's Gordon?"

Since Lancelot Gordon arrived in Madison from Shevens Point to take his position, progressives are no longer saying "Who's Gordon?" They are now saying, "Watch Gordon."

Occasionally some of the old war horses of the progressive movement dolefully wonder who is going to take up the standards of progressiveism that have been carried for so many years by the old timers. It cannot be expected that another La Follette will arise in Wisconsin in many a day. Who, then, will take up the job?

In our estimation, Lancelot Gordon fits the type of the young man who will be the hope of the progressive movement in Wisconsin in the future. Although he is only 26 years old, Gordon has already shown that he is well grounded politically in that he is a progressive because he believes in progressive principles. He does not survey the progressive movement purely as a vehicle with which to elevate any person or persons into political offices, but he sees in the movement an opportunity to be of service to his fellowmen.

Gordon comes by his political convictions naturally. When he was born in 1895 in a modest Norwegian household at Amherst Junction, he came into an environment that was widely prevalent in those days. When Robert M. La Follette was making his uphill fight in those days, there was sympathy for the cause which he was leading in nearly every Norwegian household in the state. The inherent love of liberty and equality and justice of the descendants of the Vikings in Wisconsin was attracted by the message which was being preached by the young Madison legislator and lawyer.

Gordon relates how, when only 14 years old, he used to go to political meetings at Amherst Junction and Nelsonville with his father, who was a great admirer of Senator La Follette. From those days to the present, Gordon has taken a sympathetic and militant interest in the progressive movement.

When he was still a mere lad, Gordon's parents moved from Amherst Junction to Nelsonville. There Lancelot was graduated from the eighth grade. His father, Martin L. Gordon, then moved to Stevens Point and young Gordon entered the normal school there. He was graduated from the normal school in 1915.

After leaving the normal, Gordon taught school at Merrimac, just north of Madison. While at Merrimac he was elected superintendent of schools of Portage county.

In April, 1918, he entered the service. To spent six months at

L. A. Gordon

Camp Grant and then went across with the 89th division. He served in the battle of St. Mihiel and was then sent to the Sanmur artillery school. He was then commissioned as a second lieutenant and was sent to the second division, 15th field artillery as battalian ammunition officer.

While he was in France he was elected as county superintendent of schools of Portage county to succeed himself. Gov. Blaine, who was then attorney general, took a hand in the fight in behalf of Gordon, when those opposed to Gordon sought to prevent his election by claiming that under the law he had to sign acceptance papers in order to qualify. Blaine fixed up the technicalities and Gordon was elected while in France.

Gordon came back from France in July, 1919, and immediately took up his school duties.

Again his old desire to fight under the banner of progressive principles asserted itself. He took an active part in the campaign for the La Follette candidates for delegates to the national convention. In the delegate fight he was chairman of the Portage county progressive committee. He also took an active part in the fall campaign supporting Thompson for senator, Blaine for governor, and Browne for congressman. He spoke in Oconto, Adams and Portage counties during the campaign.

At the platform convention he was elected as a member of the republican state central committee and later was appointed by Chairman Peterson as a member of the executive committee of that organization.

Although only 26 years old, Gordon has also attained to an enviable position of leadership in Norwegian Lutheran circles. He is president of the eastern district of the Young People's Luther League. The district covers all of the territory east of the Mississippi river to the Atlantic coast and includes 319 local leagues with a combined membership of over 12,000.

Since his arrival in Madison, Gordon has taken an active interest in the welfare of the progressive movement. He has made a favorable impression with the leaders with whom he has come into contact and instead of saying "Who's Gordon?" they are now saying:

"WATCH GORDON."

Many Cops Ready For Fight at Jersey City

JERSEY CITY — Every usher in the big arena where Carpentier meets Dempsey July 2, will have a burly policeman as a companion to see to it that seat holders sit only in the places which correspond to their ticket stubs.

A veritable army of policemen, firemen and detectives will be recruited while 200 detectives from all over the country, expert in recognizing pickpockets, will be on hand to conduct all such gentlemen beyond the zone of congestion.

Part of Vilas Farm Is Used as Picnic Ground

Ten acres of the old Col. William F. Vilas farm at Five Corners on the Oregon road, a mile from Madison, has been turned over as picnic grounds by C. L. Miller. Madison insurance man. The land will be available for tourists and will provide a private place to pitch their tents. The 10-acre plot is part of a farm that came into the possession of Col. Vilas at the time of his marriage after the civil war. Forest Miller will have charge of the grounds.

There won't be much use in disarmament unless the gunment agree to it.

Rev. C. F. Martens, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran church, was called to Sheboygan Falls to make an address and from there goes to Reedsburg to attend the district conference of the Wisconsin district of the Missouri synod. A. C. Felscher is the lay delegate of the congregation.

MAN-POWER AND EQUIPMENT THAT MEAN BATTERY SERVICE

CHARLES M. SCHWAB is credited with saying: "Give me the men and I can make or sell anything." It's Service that we have to sell. So we started out by getting around us the MEN that could make that Service mean something. Men who know their business; men who can show you that they know. Men who are far-sighted enough to make an inexpensive repair when it would be just as easy to sell a new battery. Men who know that only by doing these things can they hope to win and hold the confidence of every car owner in town.

And these men are backed up by the mechanical equipment that makes their work a pleasure to them. This, too, means much to you as a car owner. It means minimum time where a repair is needed and a grade of workmanship otherwise impossible.

And it is a pleasure, too, in this business of ours, to be able to look our friends square in the eye and recommend the Philadelphia Diamond Grid Battery, guaranteed for two years, by the manufacturers as well as ourselves.

TRINITY CHURCH IN ANNIVERSARY

Celebrates 15th Birthday With Special Services On Sunday

By SEN. H. E. ROETHE

Trinity, youngest of the three Norwegian Lutheran churches of Madison, celebrated its 15th anniversary yesterday. Three services, all largely attended, were held. In the morning, Rev. J. Nordby, of Deerfield, president of the east district of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America spoke in Norwegian. He also addressed in English the afternoon and evening meetings, all of which were in English.

Rev. L. L. Nesvig of Stoughton was the speaker at the former and Rev. O. J. H. Preus of DeForest, brother of the governor of Minnesota, at the latter. The church choir rendered anthems at all of the services, the evening meeting being largely a song service. Solos were rendered by Ed. Swein, Mrs. H. Rign of Luther Memorial church, and Miss Bernice Johnson of Spring Prairie, and a duet by Messrs. E. E. and A. E. Sater.

A gratifying feature of the day, was the liquidating of the entire debt of $2000 on the parsonage of the congregation by the contributions received on this occasion, which amounted to over $2100, much greater than pastor or congregation had anticipated.

Trinity Lutheran church is located on First and Winnebago streets, and is a fine structure erected in 1909. The congregation, before it had a church home of its own, held its meetings in Rev. Wilke's church. It has 124 communicant members, and under the pastorate of Rev. J. N. Walstead, who came here from Lodi one and a half years ago, is rapidly adding to the church membership.

TWO KILLED IN AIR ACCIDENT

Giant Hydro-airplane Is Wrecked in Shallow Water

TROY, N. Y.—Don Campbell, 21, and Henry Beattie, 18, of Watervliet, were killed and Schuyler Mocharie, 22, of Albany, seriously injured Sunday afternoon when a giant hydroairplane, piloted by Campbell was wrecked in shallow water in the Hudson river south of the new federal dam.

Campbell, the pilot, seemed to be executing a nose dive after flying exceedingly low. Evidently he was not high enough to complete the dive. The nose of the machine struck the gravel bottom.

The first unit of the headquarters building for the new Y. M. C. A. boys' camp at Morris park will be completed this week. It is a 21 by 55 foot structure which will contain a large dining room, kitchen, store room and cook's quarters, and is situated about 200 feet from the lake front, just behind a fine panther-shaped Indian mound.

Do You Remember?

DO YOU REMEMBER when Squire Seymour's little cottage stood on the corner of Monona Avenue and Climber st., now Doty, where the Elks Club now is and the Squire used to sit in the yard and talk of the founding of the City of Madison in 1837 when he was Justice of Peace. The Judge performed the first marriage in Madison between a French half breed and an Indian squaw and claimed he kissed the squaw.—J. J. J.

New Laws of Wisconsin

State of Wisconsin, } ss

Department of State.)

I, Elmer S. Hall, Secretary of State of the State of Wisconsin, do hereby certify that following are the New Laws of this state as enacted by the Wisconsin Legislature of 1921, and as approved by the governor; and that this is the official publication of said laws as directed and required by Section 35.04 R. S. Wis., 1919.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and official seal at the Capitol at Madison, Wis., this 26th day of January, 1921.

ELMER S. HALL,
Secretary of State.

(Seal.)

No. [illegible] Published June 20, 1921

AN [illegible] provide an additional [illegible] the superior court of Dane [illegible] to amend chapter 136 of [illegible] of 1917, and acts amend- [illegible] thereof in relation to such [illegible] and to amend the introduc- [illegible] paragraph and subsection (1) [illegible] 20.66 of the statutes, re- [illegible] to the salaries of judges and [illegible] an appropriation.

The people of the state of Wisconsin, represented in senate and assembly, do enact as follows:

Section 1. On the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1922, there shall be elected in the county of Dane an additional judge of the superior court of Dane county who shall hold his office from the first Monday in July, 1922, to the first Monday of January, 1927, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

Section 2. Section 6 of chapter 136, laws of 1917, is amended to read: (Ch. 136, laws of 1917) Section 6. 1. On the first Tuesday of April, A. D. 1922, and on the first Tuesday of April every six years thereafter, AND ON THE FIRST TUESDAY OF APRIL, A. D. 1928, AND ON THE FIRST TUESDAY OF APRIL EVERY SIX YEARS THEREAFTER, there shall be elected in the county of Dane, in the same manner as county judges are elected, a judge of the superior court EACH OF WHOM shall hold his office for the term of six years thereafter, beginning the first day of January succeeding his election and continue until his successor is elected and qualified, and shall be subject to removal from office in the manner provided by the constitution of this state for the removal of judges of the circuit court. The nominations of candidates for superior judges shall be made in the same manner as provided for county judges.

2. THE SUPERIOR JUDGE WHO IS OLDEST IN SERVICE SHALL BE THE SENIOR JUDGE OF SAID COURT. HE SHALL MAKE PROVISION EITHER BY GENERAL RULES OR BY SPECIAL ORDERS FOR THE DIVISION OF THE WORK OF SAID COURT.

Section 3. Any and all provisions of chapter 136 of the laws of 1917, or acts amendatory thereof with reference to the powers, duties, rights or salary of the superior judge of Dane county shall from and after the first Monday of July, 1922, be taken to refer to each of the superior judges of Dane county, or either of them, as the case may be; except that all power of appointment of regular officials of the superior court of Dane county and the power to make and promulgate rules therefor shall be vested in the senior superior judge, and except that the salary of the senior superior judge from and after the first Monday of July, 1922, shall be paid by the state.

Section 4. The introductory paragraph, and subsection (1) of section [illegible] of the statutes are amended to read: (20.66) (Introductory paragraph) There are appropriated from the general fund, annually, such sums as may be necessary, for salaries and expenses of the judges and reporters of the circuit courts, AND THE SALARY OF THE SENIOR SUPERIOR JUDGE OF DANE COUNTY, upon vouchers duly verified and certified by said judges, respectively, and filed with the secretary of state, as follows:

(1) To each judge of a circuit court, during terms of office commencing before the first day of July, 1919, fifty-five hundred dollars, and, during terms of office commencing after the first day of July, 1919, sixty-five hundred dollars. Each circuit judge shall also be reimbursed for necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of judicial duty outside his home county, and in attending meetings of the board of circuit judges. TO THE SENIOR SUPERIOR JUDGE OF DANE COUNTY, BEGINNING THE FIRST MONDAY OF JULY, 1922, FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Section 5. This act shall take effect upon passage and publication.

Approved June 16, 1921.

TUESDAY NIGHT

Stoughton Department

C. J. ROLLIS, Editor

Office First Floor 102 East Main Street. Telephone 664 W.

STOUGHTON—The Beaver Dam Argus seems to have gotten the wrong pig by the ear when it called John Ruskie a Stoughton man. John at one time lived in Stoughton but moved to Madison. He is a Russian and not a Scandinavian. The Argus says: "Monday noon, Chief Groling, after an exciting chase up N. Spring street in his Ford, overtook an Elgin Six, and arrested its occupants, four in number for speeding. After the Elgin had been stopped, it was found that the occupants were intoxicated. The owner of the car was John Ruskie, of Stoughton, and his companions were from the same vinicity. They were taken before Judge Lyons, Ruskie was fined $50 and costs for driving a car when in an intoxicated condition, and the other three were fined $10 each for being intoxicated.

CITY DADS IN DIAMOND DUEL

Aldermen Play Two Fast Games at Annual Outing

Two baseball games featured the annual picnic and outing of the members of the Madison common council, city officials and their friends at Ald. W. F. Mautz's cottage on Sunday. More than 40 were present. Ald. J. L. Starr and Ald. Roy C. Proctor, as captains of the teams, gathered nine heavy hitters of unquestionable ability, for the morning game, and through the junior alderman's aggregation walked away with Ald. Starr's warriors, yet the latter made a good showing and accredit their loss to the fact that the umpire was prejudiced. The score was 23 to 9.

In the afternoon a return game was played with slightly different lineups, and again Proctor's men grabbed the long end of a 28 to 27 score.

The lineups for the morning game was: Starr's team—Utter, p; Buser, c; Grau, 1b; Walsh, 2b; Kittleson, 3b; Starr, ss; Gannon, Lochner and Nelson, fielders. Proctor's team—Cummings, p; Gratz, c; Brown, 1b; Proctor, 2b; Davenport, 3b; Harrington, ss; Fessler, Ryan and Roland, fielders.

The afternoon lineups were: Proctor's team—Cummings, p; Parker, c; Purcell, 1b; Proctor, 2b; Brown, 3b; Harrington, ss; Fessler, Roland and Rupp, fielders. Starr's team—Ryan, p; Brown, c; Steul, 1b; Walsh, 2b; Utter, 3b; Starr, ss; Stadelman, Garner and Lochner, fielders.

The boys gathered about the cottage in small groups after supper and swapped stories, and adjourned at 10 p. m. Among those who attended were J. H. Behrend, Phil Dean, Adolph Buser, Robert Stadelman, Otto, Karberg, W. F. Mautz, Martin Comeford, Joseph Starr, Harry Buser, Ole Norsman, Joseph Brown, Peter Gannon, Peter Lochner, Tim Harrington, Frank Roland, Ernest Bunn, William Ryan, Fred Gratz, Fred Cummings, Peter Walsh, George Fessler, Milo Kittleson, James Macken, Floyd Rath, Roy Proctor, Irving Gran, Harry Davenport, Charles Silbernagel, Bert Mason, E. The Sons of Norway and their families will picnic at Monona park next Sunday.

Little Mother of Near East

The above picture shows a little orphan girl who of her own accord has adopted the duties of mother to her little sister. It is not unusual to see a little child of eight or ten taking care of a smaller child. The hardships and misery which they go through tends to make them more considerate of others.

Tonight the opening dinner for the team workers of the Near East Relief campaign will be held at the Badger room of the hotel Belmont at 7 o'clock.

Prominent among those who have been invited are Gov. John J. Blaine, Mayor I. Milo Kittleson, Hon. Walter C. Owen, Edwin A. Birge, Ph. D., E. A. Babcock, C. G. McGlashan, Hugh Montgomery, Marcus Johnson, Mrs. H. S. Richards, Mrs. C. F. Lamb, Rev. P. B. Knox, Rev. Donald MacLaurin, Carl Russell Fish, Ph. D., C. E. Shaffer, Harry Sauthoff. According to Worthington Gregory, assistant state director of the Near East Relief the churches and people in Madison have responded wonderfully to all calls that have been made upon them.

The teams will be asked to make a canvass of the business district, large industrial concerns will be asked to solicit their own employees and the county will have to be handled by mail owing to the lack of time to set up a complete organization in each place.

WEEDS MENACE BADGER CROPS

Action Against Spread of Weeds Urged By State Experts

The state of Wisconsin is facing a real danger in the enormous growth and spread of noxious weeds. Canada thistles, morning glory, and quack grass, and other dangerous growths threaten to smother the chief grain crops of the state unless vigorous efforts are made to extirpate them. This is the substance of a statement sent out this week by Prof. Stone, director of the division of seed and weed control, of the state department of agriculture. Commissioner Norgord, head of the department, said Prof. Stone's warning could not be too strongly emphasized. Two things are necessary to stay the tide of weed growth; one is active and persistent work on the part of weed commissioners and the other is an awakening of the public wind to the danger to a point when the weed commissioners will be strongly supported in their efforts.

Dodder, a parasitic plant, is killing clover in our great clover seed producing sections, filling clover seed with the minute seeds and spreading this dangerous weed wherever the seed is shipped. Canada thistles, and morning glory in alsike, red clover and grain fields are likewise being spread over the state. The whole state will soon be weighed down with this mill stone of disadvantage and oppression unless town chairmen and weed commissioners enforce weed laws without fear or favor and unless the public stand behind them and urge them on. Complete eradication may never be accomplished but they can be brought under control within reasonable time by effective work done each year.

Wisconsin has one of the best weed laws in the union and since the state department of agriculture at the capitol was given the supervision of the work in 1917, a policy of putting pressure on the enforcement of this law has gradually been reaching every community.

Upon the town officers and weed commissioners in the several townships rests the responsibility for the thorough enforcement of the weed laws. They are clothed with ample authority to enforce the law and accomplish the work. The town chairman, village president, or city mayor, as the case may be, is required by law to appoint one or more weed commissioners and to report to the state department of agriculture whether such commissioners faithfully perform their duties. The appointing officer who fails to appoint at least one such weed commissioner must forfeit not less than $50 nor more than $100 unless he can show that he has exhausted every possible source in his attempt to obtain one.

BADGER MILK BODY PLANNED

Control Project To Be Discussed at Equity Meeting Here

Plans to give farmers of Wisconsin control of milk and dairy products will be considered at a conference June 22 and 23 between representatives of the Wisconsin Society of Equity and Chas. W. Holman, acting secretary of the National Milk Producer's Federation, who arrived in Madison Monday.

Credentials from over 50 counties have already been received by E. C. Pommerening, president of the Wisconsin State Union, and more are expected.

A Wisconsin Milk Producer's Federation will be organized, according to Mr. Pommerening. Eastern milk producers are better organized than the western, Pommerening said, and it is the object of the Wisconsin farmers to cooperate with the producers from the east in order to improve conditions all over dairy farming regions of the country.

Farmers To Get Crop Reports By Wireless

WASHINGTON — Farmers, for the first time in the history of our country, will be able to learn of national agricultural makret conditions on the same day that business is transacted, thanks to the use of the wireless by the Bureau of Markets of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Beginning today, a system of broadcasting agricultural market reports throughout the greater part of the country by wireless is put into operation. Formerly the growers in many sections now to be covered by radio news received their national market news several days later. The general installation of the radio service is the result of successful experimentation on a smaller scale since April 16.

EVERYONE SEES CHANGE IN HIM STATES PARNEY

Prominent Contractor Says He Can Now Beat His Hands Working; Praises Tanlac

"Everybody has noticed the change in me since I started taking Tanlac," said Elias M. Parney, prominent contractor, living at 516 Washington St., Belding, Mich. Mr. Parney gives regular employment to twelve or fifteen men, and last year built more than one hundred and fifty houses in Belding.

"I had been suffering for over a year from stomach trouble and nervousness, and got in such bad condition I just had to give up my business. My appetite was so poor I thought I was doing well to even eat a piece of toast and drink a cup of coffee, and I had a burning sensation in my stomach at times like I had swallowed a red hot coal. I finally got so weak and rundown I was unable to get out of the house, and I was so nervous that it nearly ran me wild for some one to walk heavy across the room.

"Well sir, Tanlac has put me in fine shape, I have a wonderful appetite and my stomach never causes me a bit of trouble. I have gained several pounds in weight and am in better health than I have been in years. I have my business started again, and can get out myself now and do as much as any man on the job. I recommend Tanlac every chance I get, and the other day when I told a man what the medicine has done in my case he just struck a bee-line for the drugstore to get a bottle."—Adv.

Ingrown Toe Nail Turns Out Itself

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

"Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.—Adv.

Billy Whiskers

By Frances Montgomery

Billy!" exclaimed Daisy in joyous surprise. "How did you find me? But do look out or that dreadful driver will hit you with his stringing whip, as he has been doing to me whenever I stopped to eat a rose or tried to hide so I could run back to you. But I would stop at every rose bush I came to, even if I did get hit, for it reminded me of how I was to meet you this morning under our rose bush and be married."

"Never mind, darling, he won't bother you any more. I found out he hit you, and I have fixed him so that he won't hurt you or any other goat in a hurry."

"Why, what have you done?"

"Nothing, only nearly broken his back and buried him into Great Salt Lake. The salt of the lake will help his bumps and bruises, so don't think of him any more, Daisy," but think of me and tell me you are glad to see me."

"Oh, you silly, of course, you know I am glad to see you. Didn't you see my tears in the dust as you came along? You should have, for I have cried at every step I was forced to take away from you, and I know I must have cried a quart of tears by this time. But where are the friends you were going to bring to the rose bush this morning?"

"Oh, they are coming along slowly, I presume. I ran ahead when I saw that driver strike you."

"Oh, did you?"

"Here they come now, Daisy." And she turned her head to look down the road, but before she spied the khums, her eyes fell on something nearer—a queer-looking object just dragging itself out of the water, bent nearly double and holding his hands to its back.

"See, Billy, there is the driver crawling out of the water! Oh, I am so afraid. Now he will come and nearly kill you!"

"Don't you worry, dear; you don't know me if you think one poor, half-dead man can touch a hair of our heads. Look, he has had enough of driving goats. He is going in the opposite direction, shaking his fist at us at every step."

Billy was right; the driver, who was a poorly-paid half-breed Mexican, had had enough of driving goats and he was going back home and tell his master that a man came along and stole his goats from him; but not until they had had a terrible fight, which ended in his assailant throwing him into the lake for dead.

When the flock of goats found they had no driver they scattered and after a few days wandered into the mountains where they lived unmolested for years and became almost wild again.

Charlie's Grass Skirt Burns; Charlie Flees

DES MOINES, Ia.—Fixing of guilt for the firing of Charlie Cain's grass skirt, which he wore in advertising a motion picture show was awaited Monday. Chester Dodge admitted a spark from a match, with which he was lighting a cigaret, was responsible for the fire. Charlie's mad flight attracted unusual attention.

"Puncture Vine "Plays Hob" With Auto Tires

WASHINGTON—Motorists beware the Tribulus Terrestris. News Notes From Movieland

Even Doug's own family, you know Mary Pickford and the rest of them, scarcely recognize this dynamic actor with his new scenery. He has taken to raising a mustache all for his art. His next picture is "The Three Musketeers," in which he appears as D'Artagnan, the long-haired, romantic swashbuckler, and since he must have a mustache he decided to have a home-grown one.

Zak Zak, an expert hairdresser, has been engaged to groom Fairbanks overytime he is scheduled to appear before the lens. He will have to be on the set constantly to comb Doug's hair and brush his eyebrows.

ROACH RE-SIGNS MILDRED DAVIS.

Mildred Davis isn't going to leave the Harold Lloyd studios after all. She has just signed a new five-year contract with Hal E. Roach, to serve as leading woman in several more fun subjects starring Mr. Lloyd, after which she is to be promoted to star on herself in a series of five-reel dramatic productions, sponsored by Mr. Roach.

EVA NOVAK WITH FOX.

Eva Novak, a sister of Jane, who is said to be engaged to be married to William S. Hart, is with the Fox Film Co., having inscribed her "Jane" Hancock on the dotted line to play the feminine lead in "The Last Trail," an adaptation of Zane Gray's story.

"LORNA DOONE" FILM.

If you are six foot three or more and have an exceptionally strong constitution, there might be a chance for you to get into Maurice Tourneur's forthcoming production of "Lorna Doone," which is now being filmed at Culver City.

After months of preparation, Maurice Tourneur is now filming what he claims will be the biggest production of his career. The prologue of the story is nearly finished and he is now starting to cast the principal players of the story proper. Reports from his research department impress the fact that the men of Devonshire county, England, at the period of the story, were herculean fellows of the most virile sort, and the producer is determined to portray the story with just such characters.

It is one thing to talk about leading men of the sort the story calls for, but quite another thing to find them. Tourneur is now searching the country for capable actors who can typify the characters as set forth in the Blackmore tale.

AT the Theaters

AT THE MAJESTIC.

That a crook may reform and stay reformed is shown in "Proxies," a Cosmopolitan production of high merit which was shown at the Majestic theater last night. The picture is one that commends itself invincibly to every motion picture fan, because of its heart appeal and gripping dramatic qualities. Peter, a butler, portrayed by Norman Kerry, is an excellent specimen of a man whose great purpose is to live straight after spending a term in prison. He accomplishes this against odds. Zena Virginia Keefe, the leading woman, and Raye Dean, Jack Crosby, Paul Everton, and others of the cast acquitted themselves finely.

AT THE STRAND.

Constance Binney in "The Magic Cup," is now being shown at the Strand theater. She plays the part of Mary Malloy, a kitchen girl in a large hotel. An old silver goblet with a coat of arms engraved on its side, was Mary's only treasure. She pawned it whenever she needed money in a hurry. It had saved the day so often that she called it her "magic cup." Of course it brought her love and romance at last, proving her honorable ancestry, and restoring her to her family. The added attractions will be motion pictures of Madison including the Varsity Crew, the Moose Parade, Milwaukee Trade Boosters while in the city, and some Mendota diving Nymphs. There will also be shown a Pathe colored picture, the Latest News Weekly, and a one reel comedy.

AT THE GRAND

A DAY'S RECIPE

Duck a la Martin—Prepare a large cupful of brown sauce and season highly with onion juice, celery salt, paprika, kitchen bouquet and Worcestershire sauce. Cook over hot water until well thickened, add cupful and a half of sliced cooked duck, three tablespoons of cooked green peas and a pinch of poultry seasoning. Cook until the duck is heated through, stir in the beaten yolk of one egg, cook for a moment or two longer and serve immediately.

Orange Meringues—Separate four naval oranges in sections without breaking the skin. Make a syrup of half a cup of mixed water and orange juice, the juice from half a lemon, two cups of granulated sugar and half a cup of any canned fruit juice. Simmer for five minutes, add the oranges, cover and cool. Arrange the orange sections on cake slices, moisten the cake with a little of the syrup and pile over a meringue made from the stiffly whipped whites of two eggs, two tablespoons of sugar and a very little of the syrup. Set in a slow over for the meringue to brown over. Serve cold.

BIRTHDAY HINTS

For Children's Parties—Pleasing favors and table decorations for a party may be made by simply affixing animal crackers to ordinary wafers. To do this, melt a little sugar by heating it without water, dip the animals' feet in it and stand it on the cracker. The sugar hardens almost at once. One must work quickly, for the sugar must not burn or harden unused. The realistic results always delights the little ones, especially when a few mules chance to be standing on their front legs or a group are put upon one cracker in comical fashion.

Unique Candle Holders for a birthday cake are made of maraschino cherries.

SUGGESTIONS

For a Round Table—For a round table it is better to choose a cloth with a center with a circular design than a circular cloth, for the edges of the latter almost invariably stretch in laundering.

Oiling Furniture—The leather on furniture should be rubbed over occasionally with a cloth slightly dampened with oil or with a good leather polish.

An Easy Made Mothproof Bag—Buy cretonne or any other close-weave material, paper the wrong side with several thicknesses of newspapers, using a good grade of paste, and stitch firmly. Hem top and run tape through. This bag will be found entirely mothproof, as printer's ink is death to moths.

Harding Record Is Praised By Coolidge

NILES, O.—President Harding's attitude in pacifying Europe has been a far greater influence than is yet realized, not through entanglements, but by holding to that strictly American policy so well expressed in the dispatches to foreign governments, Vice President Calvin Coolidge Saturday told an audience at the unveiling of a bust of Pres. Harding here.

The vice president pleaded for patience, pacification and harmony, and asked his hearers to follow the memory of McKinley, who so greatly desired them in the past by supporting the leadership of his fellow statesman, the present chief executive, "who is so effectively establishing them in the present."

Madison Dealers Warned Of Clever Swindle Plan

A clever swindle has been called to the attention of the Association of Commerce by E. C. Kraemer, secretary of the Neenah association, which has, in part, been perpetrated in the Fox river valley. The plan is as follows. The man comes into a community guaranteeing a circulation of 400 or 500 covers for telephone books provided one or two local men will take advertisements. He tells the men that the local commercial organization has endorsed the plan whether he has actually been to see the organization or not. In a few weeks he will come back to his advertiser, state that he has made the proper circulation, leave a cover at the advertiser's office and states that he has been checked up by the local commercial organization. The covers usually do not fit and are not circulated to the extent of more than 12 or 15 copies in a single city.

New Hair Growth After BALDNESS

On legal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth.

"Yet now, at an age over 65, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs."

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brittain certified further: "At a time when I had become discouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asseverated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as profuse as in my youthful days."

First when bald

True Hair Grower at Last

"That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilising potency of the then mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this, now called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair-growth was permanent has been amply proved."

BY GEORGE CROWNHART.

Three runs given to Lake Mills by an error and the humps in their town ball park gave Lake Mills a 5 to 2 win over the Speths. The park slopes down hill rapidly from the infield and no visiting outfielder could possibly know what the ball would do after it hit the ground.

Carns pitched a good consistent game for the Clothiers and hardly deserved to lose. He had eight strike outs, did fine in the pinches, and allowed 10 hits, three of which were due entirely to the bumps in the park. Witt of Lake Mills struck out six and allowed but eight hits. Each man passed one on balls. It was evenly matched as far as the pitchers were concerned, but Madison could not get the hang of the ground and their three errors were costly.

Lake Mills scored one in the first when Nowack hit the first offering for a three bagger. Hamann flew out to Hoven, giving Scoops the first of his six put outs on flies without an error. Nowack came home on Falks' nice bingle to left. Schumann gave Scoops his second put out and Falk was caught by Wiedenbeck trying to get home on Frandsons' single.

Madison tied the score in the opening of the second. Berrigan grounded out. Wiedenbeck got a nice double and later scored on Nowack's overthrow to third.

Lake Mills took the lead in their half of the second when Lindberg got a double, was sacrificed to third, and came home when Al Dohr failed to hold Hornickle's liner.

Another Lake Mills score came in the seventh when Tesar misjudged Mills' fly, giving Mills second. Hornickle grounded out to first and Mills went to third. Nowack took first when Berrigan fumbled the throw and Mills came home.

The Clothiers got their second run in the eighth when Bob Beyler doubled and Carns got a nice single past third.

Two more runs were added to the Lake Mills total in the eighth when their field was kind to them. Shumann flew out to Hoven. Frandsen's single to left was stretched to three bases on a terrible bound of the ball. Lindberg fanned. Witt brought Frandsen home when his liner to left hit the same spot and went over Dickert's head on a bound. He scored when Mills hit a single that went for two bases when the ball took its third lucky bound past Scoops.

A real chance for tying the score in the ninth was lost on a double play. Berrigan walked. Wiedenbeck singled. On the next play Hoven hit to short, who tossed the ball to Falk at second and then Falk caught Hoven at first. That nipped Madison's only rally.

Bruett replaced Tesar in the eighth and got a pretty single on his only chance. Falk played the stellar game for Lake Mills when he handled five assists without error, got three put outs, stole one base, and got two singles and a walk out of his four times up to the plate.

ROUNDY'S RAZZBERRIES

The Speths fell before Lake Mills yesterday 5 to 2. The game was 2 and 1 for 6 innings. Lake Mills touching up Cairns in the 8th and 9nth for 4 hits and 2 runs.

* * *

There was good strong hitting on the Speths' but all drives going straight at the infielders. The Lake Mills' short stop playing alone robbed the Speths' at least two runs.

* * *

He was the first left handed short stop I ever saw and it is poor ball to have a left hander out there at that position but this bird seems just to have a good day.

* * *

The Lake Mills diamond fooled the Madison boys for a fare you well. It is a poor diamond. Balls that were just about to be caught by the Speths infielders and outfielders would take a hop and bound at least 6 foot over their head.

* * *

Cairns had all kinds of stuff on the ball but at least 6 Texas leaguers by Lake Mills spelled defeat for him.

* * *

Lake Mills had a man named Witt from Milwaukee pitching for them and he has a world of stuff. He will be a hard man to beat, take it from me.

* * *

Falk, their second baseman, you hear so much about, played a nice game but to get in faster ball he will have to get that push movement out of his arm. He could not work fast double plays in faster ball with that motion he works with. He is a star for this kind of ball.

* * *

Lake Mills did not have the crowds that I saw at Edgerton, or Mt. Horeb. They have no grand stand and the diamond is poor. They had a pitcher's mound at that, which sure was noticeable.

* * *

The Lake Mills team is as clean a bunch as I have seen in the whole league so far and they have a real ball club so they ought to wake up the natives down there and get larger crowds.

* * *

I have not mentioned anything about umpires this seson so far. There was some yelling on this man yesterday. Now this crabbing ought to be cut out. He missed a few but on the whole his work was good.

* * *

It is up to the Pres. of the league to instruct his umpires to souk stiff fines on all this chewing at once.

* * *

The umps missed a play in the ninth on Madison that of course is bound to happen. I do not think it changed the game any.

* * *

Art Bruett pinched hit in the eight and soaked a line drive for the sacks and giving the local boys a chance, but they could not advance Art.

* * *

Art is hitting about a thousand in the Industrial league and after yesterday his average in the Tri Co., is about 999.

* * *

I heard some rumor that Lefty Williams the old White Sox turn coat was to pitch for Middleton yesterday. I do not know at this writing if he did or not but I will say that this league will not last long if he did.

* * *

I wish to say that the Speths' have a good ball club and as soon as they get an even break of the luck then you will see them near the top where they belong.

* * *

Edgerton nosed out Waunakee in the ninth inning yesterday. Waunakee was leading up till the eigfht.

* * *

Waterloo was beaten by Cambridge. Chances they will file another protest with the league Pres.

* * *

Sun Prairie nosed out Stoughton in 12 innings. It looks like the Prairie boys are the cream of the league of late.

KERR WINS OWN GAME FINE HURLING

Double in 9th Gives Cards 5-4 Win Over Braves

Holding the Yanks to one scratch hit in six innings and batting in three runs himself, Dickie Kerr won for the White Sox at New York, 6 to 4. This gave the Sox three out of the four games played with the Yankees.

* * *

With the sacks full, McHenry drove out a double that sent in three runs in the ninth, giving the Cardinals a 5 to 4 win over the Braves. This breaks the Cardinals' losing streak of five down.

* * *

Seven pitchers were used when the Indians hit out a 8 to 7 win over the Tigers. Four passes and two hits in the seventh gave the Indians four runs.

* * *

Nine runs in the first inning by hitting Vaughn all over the lot gave the Giants a 9 to 1 victory over the Cubs. Jones stopped the Giants when he replaced Vaughn.

* * *

A passed ball in the tenth inning gave the Browns the score they needed to defeat the Senators, 1 to 0. The bases were full with two down when the ball went to the netting.

* * *

Five hits scoring four runs in the fifth inning gave the Phillies a 5 to 2 victory over the Reds. The game was played with a wet field and intermittant rain.

Dempsey Will Not Go To Jersey City Until July 1

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Jack Dempsey will not invade Jersey City for his world's heavyweight championship battle with Georges Carpentier July 2, until perhaps 24 hours before the contest, according to plans announced today by Jack Kearns his manager. Dempsey will remain here until late in the afternoon of the preceding day. Kearns has arranged to have Dempsey spend the night before the battle in a private home in Jersey City. Dempsey will be kept in seclusion from the time he reaches the battle ground until the time for him to go to the arena. Kearns will have charge of his protege's corner. Dempsey's seconds probably will be Teddy Hayes, his "pal," and Trainors Jack Renault and Larry Williams, heavyweight sparring partners; Joe Benjamin and "Mike" Trant, the Chicago detective sergeant, who has been the champion's constant companion here.

OLD FIGHT FANS TELL OF 1889 BATTLE

Sullivan Beat Kilrain In Two Hours And 18 Minutes

Whenever old time fight fans gather and discuss the big battles they have seen the fellow who witnessed the 75 round championship clash between John L. Sullivan and Jake Kilrain back in 1889, tells a story that impels everybody else to go way back and sit down.

The ring was in an open field near the village of Richburg, Miss. The date was July 8. The fighters, stripped to the waist, had no protection from the hottest kind of a blistering sun. For two hours and 18 minutes they banged away at each other while eye witnesses sweltered.

Champion and challenger struggled on and on, blood and perspiration flowing in unprecedented quantities. At one time Sullivan's stomach showed signs of weakening and Kilrain proposed a draw. Sullivan replied to this suggestion with a blow that knocked the challenger down. Finally, Kilrain could no longer stand the punishment and the torrid heat. His seconds flung a sponge into the parched grass that served as the floor of the ring.

Governors, legislators and soldiers made an effort to block the scheme of holding the bout, and even when the principals faced each other for the first round, none was certain that it would go on. Indeed, Sheriff Coward of Marion county stepped forward to insist that it should not.

"He was a small man" said a report of the affair, "and did not appear at all like Ajax defying the lightning. He was given a respectful hearing after which one of the promoters asked the assemblage what was their pleasure. The response was unanimous that the fight should go on and the sheriff retired."

Rickard Says He May Referee Champ Bout

NEW YORK—Failure to reach an agreement as to who shall be the referee in the championship battle between Carpentier and Dempsey on July 2, has caused Tex Rickard, promoter, to announce he might step in and officiato himself. Chances for an agreement, however, seemed near today when the New Jersey boxing commission met again to consider the matter.

Roundy's Auto Notes

I went out to the game from here in Baltes large truck, I sat on the seat here and the first time I came down out of the air to it again was at Waterloo."

* * *

There was a lot of milk stations on the route and if I ride in that again I want Red Cross stations for my part.

* * *

And then Art Bruett said do you want to come home with me and I got down on my knees to thank Art for his noble deed.

* * *

As we started out Art said now here is where I get even for that slam that I got in the paper and got kidded to death on.

* * *

Say boys you say what you want it was the wildest ride I ever took.

* * *

He would turn around when going at 60 miles an hour and explain to me how to hit that pitcher or boys it was beyond the limit. He called the roll on the back seat once and I was the only one to answer.

* * *

There were six when we started and on the roll call there were four in the car and me praying for the missing and present. On reaching Madison I swore with a shaking hand and legs to be good to Art the rest of my life.

Fans Ask Why Carpentier Does Not Kayo Partners

MANHASSET, N. Y.—A question of 10 asked at the training camp of Georges Carpentier is—Why doesn't he let out his punches and drop a few sparring partners? This query probably was prompted by the nature of the work down at the Dempsey camp where Jack has bowled over quite a few of his opponents. Only once during his training has Carpentier really shown all his strength and speed. That was in the sparring session with Big Joe Jeannette two weeks ago. Jeannette was a mark that day for the Frenchman's flying right hand and after 30 seconds of sparring he caught one on the jaw and fell heavily. Georges begged his pardon and slowed down. That flash has not been repeated. The challenger seems content to swap punches and do a lot of covering up and get away.

ELEVEN INNING GAME GOES TO SUN PRAIRIE 4 TO 3

Rally Nearly Gives Win To Stoughton; Game Spectacular

In what was one of the most spectacular games of the season, Sun Prairie won from Stoughton in eleven innings 4 to 3. LeHail, twirling for the Sun Prairie nine had the edge in a pitchers battle with Noble of Stoughton.

A one to one score was chalked up at the end of the ninth frame and neither side added to this in the tenth In the eleventh Peterson kissed one for a nice double. Hein fanned and Smith flied out. La Hail singled scoring Peterson. On a pop in front of the plate by Carroll, Noble and Carlson had a head-on collision and the ball was dropped. Tester filled the sacks with a single. Spohn, who had previously fanned three times, came in at the pinch and hit a pretty double that scored La Hail and Carroll. Hanson flied out. This gave Sun Prairie three runs for the one inning.

A fast Stoughton rally came within one of tying the score. Carlson singled and scored on Kubly's double to left. Carlson took second on an infield out. Carlson scored on another infield play. Bigelow doubled and with the needed run to tie things up standing on second, Meinert popped out on a foul

Noble should have had a one to nothing victory in nine frames but errors by Gorman and Carroll gave Stoughton a run in the fourth. Sun Prairie scored one in the third on three singles. Le Hail held Stoughton to seven hits and fanned three. Noble was hit nine times but made up for this by striking out fifteen. There were no basses on balls, each team made a double play and outside of the errors that gave Stoughton her first run, the game was fast and exceptionally free from errors.

WHEAT PRICES SLUMP TODAY

Favorable Weather For Harvesting Causes Depression

(By the Associated Press)

CHICAGO — Favorable weather for harvesting together with depression in the stock market had a bearish effect Monday on wheat. Trade lacked volume and prices were easily influenced. Opening quotations which various from ⅛ to 1¼ lower with July 1.27½ to 1.27¾ and Sept. 1.22⅛ to 1.23 were followed by material further setbacks and then something of a rally.

Weakness in cotton as well as in stocks led to additional declines later. The close was heavy, 8@4c net lower with July 1.24¼@1.25, and Sept. 1.20@½.

Corn

Corn declined in sympathy with wheat. After opening ⅝ cents off to ⅛ cents up including September at 63¾@64 the market underwent a moderate general fall.

Absence of rain tended later to rally the market somewhat. The close was nervous ¼@⅝c net lower with Sept. 63¾@⅞.

OATS

Oats started unchanged to ¼ cents higher, Sept. 39⅝@⅞ and then underwent a sag all around.

Provisions

Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions.

STOCKS FALL TO LOW MARK

New Low Records For Current Movement Established

NEW YORK—The week in the stock market opened with new low records for the current movement. Crucible and U. S. Steels, Baldwin, Harvester, General Asphalt, Royal Dutch and many rails were under further pressure. Selling of Canadian Pacific which broke sharply last Saturday was resumed. Shippings, tobaccos, motor and food shares were lower by fractions to 1½ points. Cocoa Cola featured the minor specialties raising more than 2 points at the outset but soon reacting. Metals, leathers and cheaper oils also established lower prices.

Oils, rails, equipments and motors, notably Mexican Petroleum, pressed steel car, U. S. Steel and Studebaker were driven still lower in the last hour. The close was wea.

Profits Ahead Of Humanity

House of Representatives Passes Entering Wedge To Break Down The Seaman's Law.

THE safety of passengers on Great Lakes vessels will be greatly endangered if the amendments to the La Follette Seamen's Act, just passed by the House, are concurred in by the Senate. Despite the vigorous protest of those interested in life rather than profits the measure was passed by a vote of 190 to 103. The amendments provide that the number of able seamen required in the deck crew on Great Lakes ships may be reduced from 65% to 50% of the total.

While defeated in their efforts to prevent this reduction, the labor contingent in the House was nevertheless successful, in the course of a six-hour struggle, during which it compelled six roll calls or a record vote, in eliminating a provision extending the hours of labor for oilers and water tenders from eight to twelve hours a day.

The pro-labor members charged that these proposed amendments were merely the opening wedge toward making the entire La Follette act innocuous. This was denied by the sponsors for the bill, known as the Scott bill, who contended that passenger and packet freight vessels formerly operated on short runs on the Great Lakes have been driven out of business as a result of unnecessary expense.

The dire significance to the public of reducing the percentage of able seamen from 65% to 50% was commented upon as follows by Patrick O'Brien of the International Seamen's Union of America, who testified in the House and Senate hearings on behalf of the Great Lakes seamen:

"If this act finally passes, it will greatly increase the danger to the lives of passengers on Great Lakes vessels. Even under the old provisions of the law, only 50% of the passengers were reasonably insured against accidents, for ships were compelled to have life boats for 20% of the passengers and life rafts for 30%, while for the remaining 50% there were only life belts. Now, the case of the Empress of Ireland, which sank in the St. Lawrence River in May, 1914, and which cost 1027 lives even though the vessel was only three miles from shore and help under way, shows how little dependence can be placed upon life belts.

"The Scott amendment reduces safety at sea still further. Of the crew who are to handle the life boats and life rafts that are to take care of 50% of the passengers in the event of accident, only 50% of the men are to be certificated able seamen instead of the 65% thus far required. The other 50% will be absolutely unskilled men who know nothing about navigation.

"The Scott bill, to be sure, does not reduce the life saving equipment thus far demanded under the La Follette Act. But of what good is the equipment when there is no competent person to handle it? Defenders of the Scott bill are begging the question when they assert that life will be just as safe henceforth because the equipment remains the same."

"We of the seamen's organization are rather amazed at the indifference of the public to its own safety, and are surprised that the public is leaving it to us to do the fighting.

"Of course we shall continue the fight, and now center it in the Senate, to which body the Scott bill has been sent."

FARMERS AND "MONOPOLY"

FARMERS' organizations in Washington are having a hard time with the Senate Sub-committee on Judiciary to get prompt action on the bill prepared by Congressman Volstead legalizing the organization of farmers' cooperative associations for the marketing and handling of agricultural crops, according to a note of warning just issued by the All American Cooperative Commission.

This measure came to the Senate after passing the House by a large vote. It provides "that persons engaged in the production of agricultural products as farmers, planters, ranchmen, dairymen, or fruit growers may act together in associations, corporate or otherwise, with or without capital stock," to market their products cooperatively.

At present the farmers cannot form such organizations without incurring the possibility of drastic and summary prosecution under the Anti-trust Laws.

"The farmers have been pathetically patient in asking Congress for this simple yet exceedingly important legislation," says the appeal of the All American Cooperative Commission.

"A similar bill was introduced in the last Congress, passed the House, and was amended in the Senate for the alleged purpose of preventing a farmer-producers' monopoly! As a result, the House would not accept the ambiguous amendment, and the bill died in conference. Certain members of the Senate Judiciary Committee are still endeavoring to tack to the present bill, although it specifically guards the public against any possible 'farmers' monopoly,' the same obnoxious and ambiguous monopoly clause that caused the defeat of the bill in the last Congress.

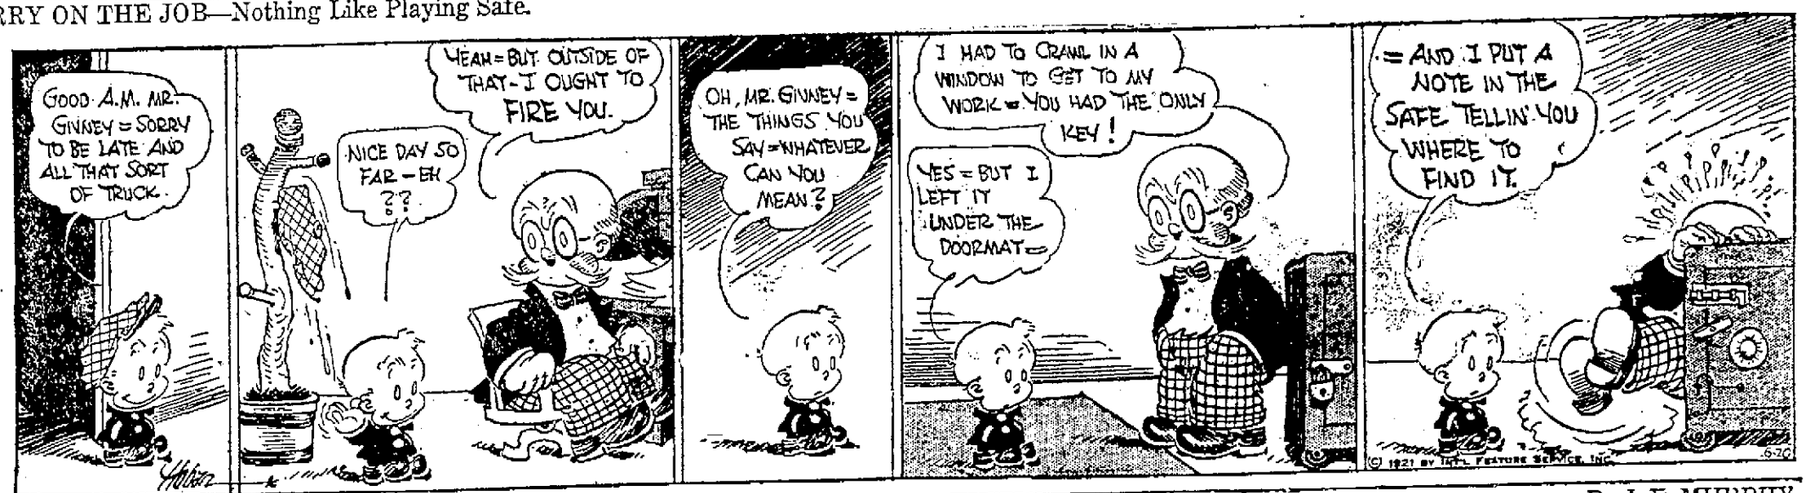

"Discussion over the bill has also been prolonged by an amendment which exempts from the Anti-Trust Laws all persons engaged in collectively 'processing, preparing for market, handling, and marketing' the farmers' crops. Just what this may be interpreted to mean, or how big a loophole it makes for the protection of pseudo-cooperative middlemen, we do not know."

Voice Of The People

FOR THE NORTHERN PARK

[To the Editor]—While on my way to Milwaukee this morning I heard the name Evjue mentioned by a gentleman seated near me, and being impressed by the name and likewise the topic of conversation naturally I became an interested party to the conversation.

This topic "Northern Lakes Park" evidently has been commented upon through the columns of your publication, The Capital Times.

The beauties of this proposed park cannot be adequately described by the most gifted writer—one must behold the same in order to fully appreciate.

I have, upon three different occasions, been upon the river and the lakes, and have travelled through its forests, have seen its fish and game, and I have as yet to see any description that credits it with being more than it really is.

My time and effort have been given freely in advocating the setting aside of this tract of beauty in the great state of Wisconsin, that future generations may enjoy the blessings of nature as we now do.

Not an acre of it belongs to me, nor am I in a position to profit financially through the sale of this land.

The gentleman who has said more and done more than any other person is A. K. Owen of Phillips, and neither does he own an acre of it, nor is he engaged in the real estate business.

You will pardon me for the liberty I have taken in thus addressing you, but after listening to the conversation this morning I felt that if you had said anything against this proposition, relative to the worthiness of the project, it was possibly due to a misunderstanding based upon misinformation.

Trusting that you may have an opportunity to say or to do something in the support of what I sincerely believe to be a worthy cause I am.—Wm. Milne, Principal, Price County Training School for Teachers, Phillips, Wis.

AN OPEN LETTER

To Governor Blaine, and Wisconsin legislature.

You are hereby notified that the constitution of The United States, and the laws of Wisconsin are in conflict with "Traditions" of Wis. University; of Berlin University and of The Klu Klux Klan of the world!

If you know what is good for you do not fail to abolish not only the peace laws now on the Statutes of Wisconsin; but serve notice on President Harding and Congress, that traditions of The K. K. K. must hereafter control all activities at W. U. and regulate diet, clothing, etc of citizen of Madison, in conformity with said tradition. (Hercof fail not at your peril.)

Just consider how much more intelligent and useful citizens could have been made of Vilas, Spooner, La Follette, et al., of they had been compelled to wear green caps!

Now consult your own safety and get in line with our traditions as we may immerse you at any time. —"Class," Spirit of 1921 (per M. P. Wheeler).

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

"Anxious": In case of your death your husband will inherit one-third of your estate and the children two-thirds. Go to a lawyer or a notary public and have him help you make a will so that your children will inherit everything. The charge for making the will will be small. Do not delay in this matter.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 19 years of age. I am very unhappy. I have been keeping company with a young man for the last eight months. I do not love him, but he loves me so much that I can't quit him. My folks say if I quit him I will have to leave home.

This young man is good-looking, dresses well, has a big car of his own, but still I do not love him. He is good to me all the time. Do you think if I married him this fall that I could learn to love him in after years? I am not engaged, but he always speaks about getting me a ring.

I am in love with one of my old schoolmates, whom my friend is jealous of. I have been going with my schoolmate now and then and he says if he ever sees me with him or if I ever go with him again he will whip him. I do not want him to hurt my sweetheart for the world. My little schoolmate seems to be in love with me.

How can I quit this young man without hurting his feelings? I tell him I don't love him.

I have been out west several times. Do you think it would be all right to go out there for a while to get away from him? He has been working for father and also for a married sister of mine. They think I have to marry him just because he did so much for them. He is a good man, but I don't like the rest of the family at all. I know if I marry him I will be miserable for life. HEART-BROKEN.

Do not marry the man you do not love. Go west if you can, or anywhere else to get away, but do not consider a loveless marriage. Your family is entirely wrong in trying to persuade you in this matter. You will have to live with the man and therefore your happiness should be considered above everything else.

The man will not whip your classmate nine chances out of ten. If he does, let your classmate fight his own battle.

It is very considerate of you not to want to hurt the man's feelings. I think, however, the kindest way will be for you to let him know definitely that you do not care for him and you never can. Do not marry, hoping that love will come after marriage.

* * *

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl of 16 and am in love with a man of 35. I go with him real often. The other night he asked me to marry him. As I have no folks I would like to live in a real home instead of working out. Should I? HOMELESS.

I am afraid there is too great a difference in your ages for you to be happy together. I would suggest that you wait at least six months before you give your answer. At the end of that time you will know better whether or not you will be happy together. Lovers who are afraid to wait have reason to doubt the sincerity of their love. A deep, true love stands the test of time. I would not advise you to marry for two years or more but for the fact that you say you have no home life now.

On The Side

A LITTLE SLICE O' LIFE.

There were 4,587 kids playing
In the street and making more noise
Than a war. Several of them
Were beating wash-boilers,
Others were blowing horns and
One had a long-distant bugle
Which would tear the heart out
Of a veteran of forty battles.
Those who had no musical instruments
Were screaming and altogether
It was one of those city nights
That one reads about, and we
Got very weary of the racket
Along about 10 o'clock and
Shoved our head out of a window
And yelled: "Hi! Cut out the noise
Or we will call the police.
Where do you think you are—
At a picnic?"
For a moment there was a lull
And one little shrimp who
Was about eight years of age
Mounted a barrel and screamed:
"How do you get that way,
You big fat stiff? This is
A free country. Crawl back
Into your hole and shut up.
You must be a reformer."
The last insult was too much
And we retired precipitately
In time to dodge a brick.
And the riot started again
More noisily than ever and
It was augmented by another
Platoon of wash-boilers
And several new musical instruments
We have never heard before.
And we wondered if it
Wouldn't be a good thing
If some of the spineless grownups
In this county had as much
Spunk as the kids.

Says Dry Chief More Autocratic Than Czar

WASHINGTON—Dr. M. C. Whitaker, Baltimore, vice president of the United States Industrial Alcohol Co., told the house rules committee that the czar of Russia had been dethroned and shot for exercising far less autocratic power than was vested in the prohibition commissioner under the Volstead bill. He appeared against the proposal to bring the bill before the house without giving them a full hearing.
